

Part 3 of a 3-part series on Identity & Transracial Adoption

CPFA's next Can We Talk?

Friday, September 18, 8-9:30 pm, EDT via Zoom

Search and Reunion

Join April Dinwoodie - speaker, advocate, and transracially adopted person and Amy Strickler -LMSW, LSW, adoptive mom and adopted person for a virtual presentation and open discussion about search and reunion of adopted persons and biological family.

RSVP by September 17, 2026

Search and Reunion
Presentation and Open Discussion
Friday, Sep 18, 2026 8-9:30pm EDT via Zoom
with April Dinwoodie and Amy Strickler

Birth Family
Adoptive Family

Can we talk?

CONCERNED PERSONS FOR ADOPTION
CPFANJ.ORG

CAN WE TALK?
A CPFANJ PROGRAM

About the Presenters

April Dinwoodie is a speaker, advocate, and transracially adopted person dedicated to advancing conversations on adoption, identity, and belonging. She is the Founder of AdoptMent and Executive Director of Transracial Journeys, where she works with families and organizations to support healthy identity development and more inclusive practices. April is also the host of the podcast Born in June, Raised in April.

Amy Strickler, LMSW, LSW, is a social work educator and adoption advocate with over 30 years of child welfare experience. She is an Assistant Professor of Teaching and Assistant Director of the Intensive Weekend MSW Program at Rutgers School of Social Work. Amy is also an adoptive mom and adopted person in reunion with her biological family, bringing both professional and personal experience to her work in adoption advocacy.